Roosevelt Has Taken Himself Out of the Race.

No Opposition to the National Administration-A Busy Day.

PHILADELPHIA, June II. - Jonney of the day on which Gen. John C. Fremont was nominated by the first Republican convention, held at Music Fund Hall, on Locust street, this city, the National Republican Convention will assemble in the Exposition Building in West Philadelphia. Here amid tempestuous, will shake the great hall.

But that outburst of enthusiasm will be only the forerunner of the pandemonium that will reign if Roosevelt aboutd be named to stand beside him in the coming battle. The stampede in his favor, started yesterday, threw the town into delirium. It swept through the delegations, who had come with

Some of the friends of other candidates, embittered by the havor his sudden acbittered by the havor his sudden acceptance created with their favorite's chances, were heard to intimate that he had been filtring with the situation from the first. He appealed to them to stem the tide, and they did what they could, reinforced at every point by Hanna and his lieutenants. Gen. Greene in his behalf even called upon delegations and in his name asked them not to support him. But the temper of the convention was unde-

All day the delegates and the crowds were abandoning themselves to the joys of the hour. From dawn until midnight, the air never ceased to throb to the pulsations of the music, and the streets constantly echoed the steady trainp of feet as famous marching clube paraded with flying banners. Tonight the throngs were enthusiastic with delight. As a prelude to the event, with the flash and scream of rockets and the glare of Greek fire, turning night into day, 20,000 organized Republicans marched through the streets amid great enthusiasm. Every sort of story was affect. It was said that Hanna served notice that Roosevelt's candidacy, although it would have been eminently acceptable at first, put forward as it was by the enemies of the administration, did not meet now with approval; and that the fight would be carried to the last ditch. Review of foreign financial conditions shrewdly decided that the New York delegation should not formally indorse Roosevelt. It is said that Roosevelt insisted upon this. Then, if he were nominated, it would be said that the nomination was forced on him. But while the New York delegation refrained from indorsing Roosevelt, Platt is said to have passed the word to Quay and the Penasylvania delega-tion to continue to fan the flames.

til quite late in the evening, but the effect was soon apparent. There were many real friends of Roossvelt who accepted his declaration as absolutely voicing his wish. It changed the current of talk, and men who were confident twenty-four hours ago that Roossvelt's nomination was a foregone conclusion began asking: "Well, who will it be?"

The auswer was, generally, John D. Long of Massachusetts, Secretary of the Navy. At once delegates began to reason that Long must be perfectly satisfactory to the administration of which he is part, or he would not be a candidate for the place. This idea received encouragement in quarters which made the Massachusetts man a prime favorite. Of course there was talk of other men. The friends of Dolliver rehewed their efforts for the young lows orator. There was some talk about Fairbanks, but the prevailing feeling was that only men who were willing to accept the place should be considered. It was not advisable, and therefore the men most talked of were Long and Dolliver, but the general impression was that Long would be the uitimate selection.

And so the stampede for Roosevelt was checked, and turned, and that which seemed so certain last night means well-nigh impossible tonight. Roosevelt himself, his clore personal friends working among delegates, and assuring them that the nomination was not desired by him, Senator Hanna and his lieutenants, all working together, are responsible for this result. It has been a day of hard work, of earnest endeavor, and tonight the men most interested believe that the Roosevelt boom has finalty been laid to rest.

NATIONAL COMMITTEE. DECIDES SEVERAL MATTERS.

A. P. DAY REPORT.]
PHILADELPHIA, June 18.—The National Republican Committee has again decided to refer the principal contesta in the State of Alabama to the convention to be investigated by the Committee on Credentials. When the matter was taken up in the committee today that body decided to put none of the delegates from the State-at-large or from the Third and Fifth districts on the temporary roll.

from the Third and Fifth districts on the temporary roll.

Aside from the action taken upon the Alabama contest, the most important matter which came before the committee at today's session was the resignation of Col. Swords as sergeantat-arms of the committee. The colonel has held this position for twelve years, and there were general expressions of regret as well as of surprise over his determination to resign. A resolution extending the committee's appreciation of his successful administration was

"WASHINGTON, June 15.—The War Department has received the following cablegram from Gen. MacArthur — Manila, dated yesterday:

"Ninth Infantry, Col. Liscum, ordered to Taku on Logan; transportation Fort Albert; probably start 28th. Typhoon delay movements."

The voyage from Manila to Taku will occupy at least a week.

The War Department confirms the report that the Ninth Infantry has been ordered from Manila to China. The regiment, is already aboard the transport and ready to sail for China.

THE CABLEGRAME.

[A. P. DAY REPORT.]

THE CABLEGRAME.

LA. P. DAY REPORT.

WASHINGTON, June 18.—The Navy Department has made public the text of the two cablegrams received from Admiral Remey and Commander
Taussig. The first is as follows:
"9:40 a.m. Cavite, June 18.
"Bureau of Navigation, Washington:

"Bureau of Navigation, Washington: Taussig cables that Taku forces fired upon foreign gun vessels and then surrendered to the allied forces the morating of June 17. Kempff asked instructions about joining other powers who are taking united action in demanding that the Taku forces be turned over to them to 'secure favorable termination of the trouble. Will the department instruct Kempff through Taku at the Foo and give me the same information."

The telegram from Commander Taussig, of the Yorktown, is as follows:

Taussig, of the Yorktown, is as follows:

"CHE FOO, June 17.—Taku force fired upon foreign vessels about 12:45 a.m., surrendered to allied forces at a.m. The British admiral is at Tien-Tsin.

[Signed]

The State Department this morning received a cablegram from United States Consul Goodnow at Shanghal, repeating the news previously conveyed to the Navy Department by Admiral Remey and Commander Taussig. The officials here are pussed by Taussig's statements that the British admiral officials here are pussled by Taussig's statements that the British admiral has arrived at Tien-Tsin. They do not know that more than one British admiral was in the Pel Ho River, and that was Admiral Seymour, who led the international relief column toward Peking. If it is this admiral who has returned to Tien-Tsin, then the assumption is that the relief column has failed, and has been compelled to retreat to Tien-Tsin.

This assumption would explain the statement brought by the Japanese torpedo-boat that the foreign legations at Peking had been taken, for that is the only manner in which the news could have reached Tien-Tsin. In this case soldiers will be sent from the Philippines if needed.

Until the precise attitude of the Chinese government can be ascertained, the State Department will hold that the United States is not at war with China. The bombardment of Taku need not necessarily lead to hostilities if the commandant of the forts acted on his own responsibility or had joined with the rebels. The intent of the Peking authorities will be ascertained before a technical construction of the Taku incident is made.

PREPARING TO GO TO CHINA.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

MANILA, June 18, 5:35 p.m.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) The Ninth Regiment, Col. Liscum commanding, which was possible to China to reinforce the American naval force now there, musters 4000 men. It is one of the strongest regiments in the army, and its men nre now employed in garrisoning nine important railroad towns. The extraordinary activity of the regiment practically pacified the entire valley. The work of transferring the men to Manila has/begun, but it will probably be a week before they are all here.

In addition to the difficulty of regarrisoning the Ninth Regiment's territory rains are causing great delay in the movement of troops toward Manila. The railroad is washed out for a distance of 100 yards near Tarlac, and this makes it necessary to ferry the men across the torrent. Many telegraph twies have been rendered useless. Gen. Wheaton, who commands 200 posts and 2500 men, has been compelled to rely entirely upon messengers for the trans-

THE TAKU FORTS.

WELL MANNED AND ARMED.

WASHINGTON, June 18.—In view of the interhational character of the at-tack upon and capture of the Taku forts, some interest may be felt in the following statement prepared by Maj, Simpson, in charge of the Military In-formation Bureau of the Was Democration connected by a railroad. It is noted by the three engagements that have taken place there between the British and Chinese. Part of the Tien-Tain army corps has modern organization, drill and arms, and is stationed at the Taku forts. Between Taku and Tien-Tsin, the center of the defenses and chief arsenal of Northern China are oermanent camps where there are usually 30,000 troops, infantry, cavelry and artillery, armed with Mauser rifes and Krupp guns. The cavelry also carry Mauser carbines. These troops have been well-instructed for ten or twelve years by foreign officers. The armament of the Taku forts consists of very heavy Krupp guns, and the approaches to the forts from the Gulf of Pe-Chill are extremely difficult.

The fortifications consist of three forts, a large one on the right bank and two smaller ones on the left. All of the forts are armed with numerous guns of the most varied systems and calibers. In the construction the forts of the second zone, the dady clay soil of the const was used, which during the dry season, becomes cracked and crumbles very easily, and the garrison is continually making repairs. In Taku are the materials for closing up the mouth of the Pet Ho. All the coast fortifications have mines."

The instructions sent to Admiral Kempfi relative to his participation in the seisure of the Taku forts were broad, consisting of a direction to protect all American interests, and to that end to act concurrently with the representatives of other powers. It was learned at the British embassy this afternoon that there were two British admirals in the Pel Ho River, Admiral Seymour and Admiral Bruce. Therefore Taussig's reference to the arrival of a British admiral at Tien-Tsin does not mean necessarily that Seymour has returned with his foreign column.

Kinyoun is Ordered to Revoke His Order.

> Washington Officials Act on California Protests.

Federal Officer not Blamed -- Governor's Dispatch Made Public.

USPRICE WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, June 18.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The United States government was not willing to stand for Federal Quarantine Officer Kinyoun's action in quarantining the entire State of California on account of alleged cases of plague which exist in San Francisco, and today his sweeping order, made in San Francisco last Friday, was revoked. Assistant Secretary Spolding says, because Gov. Gage and many prominent people in California telegraphed here that it was ridiculous and would seriously affect business in the State. It was represented on all hands that considerable doubt still exists about whether there really is a case-of plague in San Francisco, only way, and Secretary Spalding said that under these circumstances he felt bound to revoke Kinyoun's order.

"But," added Mr. Spalding, "we have faith in Kinyoun's ability and integrity. We have revoked this order because its issuance seemed ill-advised. We intend to place no restrictions upon the people of California until it shall appear definitely that there is plague in the State, and we do not believe that will appear very soon."

Just to show that there are no hard feelings in the Treasury Department toward Kinyoun, the acting Secretary today asked Atty-Gen, Griggs to instruct the United States District Attorney at San Francisco to appear and defend Kinyoun in the contempt proceedings in which he will appear. Mr. Griggs issued that order, basing his action largely upon the ground that Kinyoun did not know, when he issued his last order, that he was acting in contempt of court.

[A. P. NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, June 18.—A number of the members of the California delegation to the Philadelphia convention called at the White House today and protested to the President against the action of Dr. Kinyoun, the government quarantine officer at San Francisco, in declaring a quarantine against citizens of California leaving the State on account of the alleged presence of buonic plague in San Francisco.

The delegation insisted that there was not and had not been a single case of the plague in the city, and characterized as outrageous the action of Dr. Kinyoun. The President called up Assistant Secretary Spolding on the telephone and learned from him that Dr. Kinyoun's quarantine order had been recalled already by the Treasury Department. This information was satisfactory to the members of the delegation. The Marine Hospital Service will take no further action in the matter.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18.—The trial of the contempt proceedings instituted against Dr. Kinyoun for violating the injunction Issued by Judge Morrow of the United States Court, forbidding him to continue any quarantine in this State on hocount of the alleged plague in this city, was postponed today, the court stating that he might call the case at any time after the answer to the complaint had been filed. One week had been granted defendants in which to file the answer. The court made it plain to the attorneys that sny agreement entered into with counsel with a view to settling the case would not be recognized by the court, who, in his statement from the bench, stated that the defendant must show proper cause why he should not be punished for disregarding the order of the court.

GRAND JURY TO INVESTIGATE.

[A. P. DAY REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18.—One of the first duties of the new grand jury now being selected will be the investi-gation of the acts of the Board of Health in the matter of quarantining Chinatown. The whole status of the plague situation will be critically ex-amined into. THE GOVERNOR'S PROTEST.

THE GOVERNOR'S PROTEST.

(A. P. DAY REPORT.)

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18.—Gov.

Gage today made public his first dispatch to President McKinley in relation to the course pursued by Federal Quarantine Officer Kinyoun. It is one of a series of communications sent by the Governor, but the others and the answers thereto he does not feel at liberty to give to the press. SAN FRANCISCO, June 18.—Gov.

Gage today made public his first dispatch to President McKinley in relation to the course pursued by Federal Quarantine Officer Kinyoun. It is one of a series of communications sent by the Governor, but the others and the answers thereto he does not feel at liberty to give to the press. The dispatch which first acquainted the President of acts of Dr. Kinyoun was as follows:

"SAN FRANCISCO, June 18, 1900.—The President, Washington, D.C.: Dr. Kinyoun, the Federal quarantine officer of this port, claiming to act under your authority, has unreasonably and unnecessarily quarantined this State in opposition to my full and fair re-treatment with doctors, but they did me no good, and I thought I would have to resort to morphise.

"The doctor said that all that could help me was te have an operation and have the womb removed, but I had heard of Mrs. Pinkham's medicine and decided to try it, and wrote for her advice, and after taking her Vegetable Compound the tumors were expelled and I began to get stronger right along, and am as well as ever before. Can truly say that I would never had gotten well had it not been for Lydis E. Pinkham's Compound."—Many A. Stahl, Watsontown, P.A.

port to the honorable Secretary of State, under date of June 14, 1900, and also, among other things, in opposition to the opinion of Judge Morrow of the United States Court, rendered yesterday, dissolving the quarantine.

"Through Dr. Kinyoun's conduct in the past as well as his present action, the reputation of the State, the rights of citizens, as well as the rights of citizens, as well as the rights of of coreign subjects, are outrageously impaired. I am informed that Dr. Kinyoun transmitted dispatches to Washington yesterday through official channels wherein are contained unwarranted statements and improper-reflections. He has been advised by the United States District-Attorney that his course is unjustifiable and he refuses to withdraw his last order of general quarantine without further instructions from Washington.

"On behalf of the people of California, I respectfully protest against his actions, and request immediate relief for the people of this State, the traveling public and the commercial interests of the coast. Your most obedient, humble servant,

WILL KEEP CLEANING.

(A.P. NIGHT REPORT.)

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18.—At a consultation between the Board of Health and the Citisens' Relief Committee, it was decided to continue the cleansing of Chinatown. At a meeting of the Board of Supervisors, an ordinance was passed to print rescinding former resolutions giving the Board of Health power to quarantine the Chinese quarter.

INDIA AWAITS MONSOON. CURZON REPORTS NO IMPROVE-MENT IN FAMINE DISTRICT. [A. P. NIGHT REPORT.]

IA. P. NIGHT REPORT.]

LONDON, June 18.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The following dispatch has been received from the Viçeroy of India, Lord Curson of Keddleshon:

"The week's famine reports show a state of general expectancy, pending the advance of the monsoon, which has not yet appeared. Heavy rain has fallen in Burmah, and in the Deltaic and Central districts of Behar.

"On the west coast the monsoon current is weak, and has not progressed north of Goat nor penetrated to the most affected regions, and the hot weather conditions still exist. There is no improvement possible in the affected districts, nor any decrease of numbers of the relief works until there shall be a heavier general rainfall. The relief total now reaches $5,22,000."

DUNCAN TO DEFEND DUNCAN. TROUBLE PROBABLE OVER COLO-RADO PROPERTY.

(A. P. NIGHT REPORT.) DENVER (Colo.,) June 18.—The San Luis Valley Land and Mining Company, which recently purchased Bacaland grant No. 4 in Saguache county, filed suit, of ejectment and damages in the United States Circuit Court today against John T. Duncan and others, who are in possession of the mining against John T. Duncan and others, who are in possession of the mining town of Duncan, which is said to be located in the grant.

Duncan declares he will fight before he relinquishes what he considers his rights, and it is said he will be backed up by several hundred hardy mountaineers, miners and farmers. The company which brings the suit is a New Jersey corporation.

RABBIT OWNERS BEWAIL ASPER-SIONS ON THEIR PETS.

A "hare-raising" episode occurred last night at the printing office of the Belgian Fancler, No. 310 West First street. A goodly number of men and women who are engaged in replenishing Southern California with the docile and productive Belgian hare of commerce met in solemn conclave and bewailed the published statement that the rabbit industry was in danger of becoming a "has been," and discussed ways and means of keeping the market inflated, at least until they could unload.

ways and means of keeping the market inflated, at least until they could unload.

In order to save their "industry" from the onrushing tide of extinction, it was deemed absolutely necessary to infuse renewed energy into the project of holding a grand Belgian hare exhibit in October, which has been discussed with more or less enthusiasm for some time. It was decided that at least $1000 would be required. The treasury contained between $500 and $400, and $100 more was donated on the spot, each subscriber wondering whether he would be able to replenish his purse on the strength of a pedigree, or whether his pets would be forced to the market level of the piebeian cottontail.

One member stated that he had endeavored to remove the prejudice of his wife against the Belgian hare as a table delicacy, and—well, the experiment had its drawbacks.

On one subject the members were a unit. They viewed with alarm the assertion that their "industry" was a mere crase, like the tulip mania in Holland, and that the reaction is already visible without the aid of a magnifying glass. They confidently assured themselves that the rabbitries of Los Angeles county were better than the gold deposits of Cape Nome, and they resolved to appeal to the moulders of public opinion to bear them out in their alleged convictions.

RATIFICATION PLANS. REPUBLICANS ARRANGING FOR A BIG DEMONSTRATION.

The Republican clans are gathering and next Saturday night they will rat-ify, in a fitting manner, the nomina-tions made by the Republican National Convention today. Party workers have buckled on the harness and are making elaborate preparations for a bir demonstration.

The special Committee on Arrangements, appointed by the Executive Committee of the County Central Com-mittee, Saturday, held its first meeting yesterday afternoon in the rooms of the Union League. Ferd K. Rule was elected chairman of the committee and Paul Burks secretary. Bradner W. Lee, Esq., chairman of the Republican County Central Committee, O. R. W. Robinson and J. W. McKinley, Esq., were added to the General Committee, which will hold another meeting this afternoon.

An effort is being made to have some prominent speaker from the northern end of the State come south and address the board meeting. Gen. W. H. L. Barnes has been invited and the members of the committee believe that he will accept. Bradner W. Lee, J. S. Blauson and J. W. McKinley were appointed a special committee to arrange for the oratorial features.

The committee also appointed a Finance Committee also appointed as Finance Committee, composed of the following: G. J. Griffith, R. W. Burnham, O. R. W. Robinson, Frank P. Fint and Dana Burks. The committee has been asked to raise $500.

Among the other sub-committees appointed are:

Halls and Decoration—L. G. Brown, Charles H. Toll.

Programme—Arthur W. Kinney, R. D. Wade.

CATHOLICS TO UNITE. FEDERATION PLANNED FOR POLIT-ICAL ACTION.

[A. P. DAY REPORT.]
NEW YORK, June 18.—With a view to political action, a project that has for its object the federation of all the for its object the receration of all the societies in the United States composed of Roman Catholic laymen, is being discussed in Catholic circles through the country. Some influential clergy-the country. Some influential clergy-men and laymen are interested.

By the plan all Catholic societies are to become affiliated, although each sep-arate organization is to retain its inviduality. The idea is to have all the members of the societies subject to a central direction, so that all may work together whenever secretaries. work together whenever necessary for any special purpose. It is argued that Roman Catholics in this country are unfairly treated in some respects. The projectors of this union hold that Catholic voters would be able to right whatever wrongs are now declared to exist. Because of the possibility of the projected federation getting into politics, the idea is opposed in some quarters. The advocates of the plan deny that it would have anything to do directly with politics. It is confidently predicted that the great union will be formed, and that it will comprise Catholic societies of all nationalities. Bishop McFaul of Trenton, N. J., is a warm supporter of the project. He has prepared an address on "The Influence of Catholic Societies" that is being circulated extensively in support of the federation idea. work together whenever necessa ing plainly stated. In case of his death, there being no children, what part of the property can the wife get? Can his people, if they wish to claim it, get a portion of the property? In what way should the husband proceed if he wished his wife to receive the whole property in case of his death?

Answer: The better way by far is for him to make a will to that effect. Thus he can shut out all except his wife.

M. S. F. asks: If a husband gives to his wife by deed of gift a house and lot, must she place the same on record immediately to make her title good; or can she hold the deed until after his death before she files it for record and still make her title good, when there is no disposition or claim against the property?

is no disposition or claim against the property?

Answer: The deed being delivered, the title is perfect without record; but if there are creditors of the husband, they would be entitled to set aside the deed of gift, if the husband was insolvent at the time of the gift. Otherwise she can hold the deed, and record it after his death

USE OF PROPERTY.

A. B. C. asks: I own a ten-acre orange grove. A neighbor owns one adjacent to mine—a little higher than mine, and we both irrigate from east to west, and we have done so for many years. The soil is gradually washed from both our groves to the west, so than at present where his west line joins my land on the east, his land is from six to twelve inches higher than mine. This waste water from irrigation has troubled me for ten years, but in all this time I have complained to him and tried to have him scrape the soil that has accumulated near his westerly line back to the eastward, where it washed from and so lower the surface, and then maintain a waste-water ditch along his west line to the highway. Now, I suppose he has no legal right to run the waste water into the highway, but it is done by everybody, and no complaint is made; in fact, the waste water is used for irrigating along the road.

It is a fact that it is difficult to irrigate without waste water, and his waste water must go on my land or to the roadside.

If he should be able to make it appear that much of the water that I complain of came through gopher holes, which are difficult to find and stop, would that make any difference?

Now, to make a long question short: If a man turns water upon his land to irrigate, has he any legal right to left if flow upon his neighbor's land, even if it is not convenient for him to keep it off? If not, what is the best legal course for me to pursue?

Answer: It is a fundamental maxim of the law, which applies to this matter, that one must so use his own property as not to injure another. One has no right to turn waste water upon another man's land, either, positively or negatively, by wilfulness or negli-

NOTARIAL FEES.

C. B. writes: I wish to ask if it is leawful for a notary public to charge as much as he pleases. I sold a piece of property down in Memphis. Fenn.; my agent sent the deed to me to sign; also for my wife to sign. I went to a notary public out here and we both signed it and he put his seal es it. I saked him how much for his services. He told me 22. What I wish to know is, if they are allowed to tharge that much for a simple acknowledgment, the has no more right to practice extertion than any other public officer. And if he doese his commission may be annulled. So far as I know, from 25 to 6 cents may be charged, that belns the customary price for acknowledging a deed, and no more.

LANDLORD AND TENANT.

W. H. A. writes: A leases from S. eight rooms of a ten-room house, 8 occupying the two remaining rooms, it is stipulated in the twelve-months' lease that '8 is to pay one-half of the monthly water tax so long as she may occupy part of said house.

S. who contemplates a visit to friends in the East, has endeavored to rent her two rooms furnished during her absence, but having failed in her purpose proposes to lock them and hold the key till her return; at the same time she demands that A pay the whole water tax during her absence.

As Webster defines "occupy," it is to hold in possession, "to use." A refuses to pay the whole water tax unless to pay the whole water tax unrises to pay the whole water tax are kept locked—with the key in her possession.

Kindly inform me who is liable for S's one-half on the water rent during her absence, when the water will still be used in watering the grass, trees and flowers on said premises belonging to S.

Answer: According to this statement. S is evidently occupying the rooms, even while personally absent; and the absence, therefore, makes no difference in the terms of A, who is still liable only for the stipulated one-half of the water rent.

DISTRICT CONVENTIONS.

made "unanimous." In a similar manner the remaining candidates are selected.

The two Presidential electors at large in each State every fourth year are nominated by the regular State convention; or (if no State officers are to be nominated that year.) by a convention called for the purpose. Sometimes all the electors are nominated by the State convention.

It is customary for the successful candidates for Governor and Lieutenant-Governor to be escorted to the platform before the convention closes, that they may be introduced to the assembly, and may declare in brief speeches their acceptance of the honors thrust upon them.

Necessarily, the routine work of the State convention is "cut and dried" beforehand by the central committee. The permanent presiding officer, having been selected some time before the assembling of the convention, is able to prepare a suitable address, which may be of real importance, and the Committee on Resolutions is also given time to indite a document which shall adequately represent the attitude of the party upon questions of national consequence. But too often the committee carries its actics beyond the necessary or desirable limit and unduly influences the choice of candidates, so that the "State machine" becomes not the servant, but the despotic master of the party. This has been sadily exemplified in recent years in New York and Pennsylvania, not to mention less striking instances.

State conventions held in "off years"—that is, years in which mid Governor or Lieutenant-Governor, but only the minor State officers are chosen—excite far less interest and accompilish their duties with less formality. In some cases nominations of State officers on off years are left entirely to the State Central Committee, or are referred by the convention. Sometimes one of these methods is followed, even when a full State Legisla.

THE CRAWFORD COUNTY CAUCUS,
An exceptional form of the primary originated in Crawford county, Pa., and is called by the county name. It does away with nominating conventions of delegates, and permits the voters of the party to vote by ballot at the poils for their party candidates. This first election is conducted like a regular legal election, but the voters are those of a single party only. The system is used in some of the counties and districts in a dozen or more of the States.

THE COUNTY CONVENTION.
The county committee for each party calls a county convention and specifies the number of delegates to which each city and town is entitled. The committee chairman calls the meeting to order, and reads the "call." A temporary chairman and recretary are then chosen, and a Committee on Credentials appointed. These lant examine the credentials of the delegates, and in case there are two sets of delegates from the same town or city claiming seats in the convention, they claiming seats in the convention, they

[A. P. DAY REPORT.]

KINGSTON (Jamaica,) June 18.—
[By West Indian Cable.] Passengers who arrived from Panama on board the British steamer Don, from Colon, bring details of a battle which was fought June 13 and 14 on the Bejuca plain and Anton Hill, between government forces composed of three battaillons numbering about 1860 men, and a force of revolutionists under Gen. Behasaroe Parras. It is asserted that 40 soldiers and thirty-five officers of the government force were killed, and that the remainder of the government army was divided.

W ORDS VERSUS IDEAS.

In a recent issue of the North Amesican Review Bryan poses in a somewhat new role—as a scholar and philosopher, rather than as a demagogue. His article, which has attracted some attention in the press, is entitled: "The Issue in the Presidential Campaign," and he deals largely with the development of plutocracy and the dangers which he claims, in the light of history, threaten the republic. He refers to Froude as showing the influence of the lust of money in producing the fall of the Roman empire. As an eastern contemporary points out, this quotation business is one at which two can play. For instance, there is Gibbon, whose work on the decay of the Roman empire is a classic. He attributes it to the long peace unhered in by Augustus, which "introduced a strong and server poisson into the vitals of the ampire." How does Mr. Bryan reconcile this with his yearning after an "in-

"Perhaps our own impression of the article will be clearly conveyed if we quote again from John Seidem, who says somewhere that "few men make themselves masters of the thinga they write or speak." Mr. Bryan is not one of the few. His mental equipment is one of the most singular we have ever studied. If fecundity of expression is a sign of intellect, Mr. Bryan is a great man; but if fecundity of ideas is necessary to true greatness, he must be classed as a pinchbeck orator. Looked at in any way you please he is a distressing exhibition. If we assume that he continues to pose as a Presidential candidate primarily for the money that there is for him in that career (and some believe that that is his real object,) we must view him with contempt. If we assume that he really believes the things that he is telling the American péople, we are in no better position, for them we must necessarily be filled with amazement and alarm at the fact that a great political party (comprising about half our population) is so mutually deficient or so unscrupulons as to accept such a man as its leader."

But Mr. Frawley and his excellent company of players are entitled to a large meed of praise for this production. The undertaking was one of large proportions. A play of this charactur requires for its most successful production a large company of players, specially selected with reference to their individual and histronic qualifications. If the Frawley Company were not superior to the average stock company in the matter of versatility it would score a dismai failure instead of a qualified success in "Quo Vadis."

That the play "brings out the full strength" of the company (as well as some of its weaknesses.) all will agree, it also brings out the full strength of such additions to the company as Mr. Frawley has found necessary for this particular production. Specially is this to to be said of Clark Macfariane, who is cast as Ursus, the strong man of Lygia. To Mr. Macfariane falls the somewhat onerous but probably not altogether dietasteful task of toting Lygia, the Christian maiden (Miss Keith Wakeman,) on and off the stage, on divers and various occasions. Mr. Macfariane performs the feat with a degree of agility and grace which would for should) have cast a halo of undying renown about the original strong man of Lygean extraction. When it is stated that Miss Wakeman probably weighs 160 pounds, if she weighs an ounce, the magnitude of the task allotted to Mr. Ursus becomes in some degree apparent. Mr. Macfariane's work in this minor yet highly important role gives Mathieu as Caus Hasta, are enturion. In all other respects he is Mathieu, much in evidence and utterly commonplace. Wallace Shaw presents a consistent but weak impersonation as Chilo Chilonidis, a soothsayer. H. S. Duffield does good and conscientious work as Aulus Plautius. George Gaston's impersonation of Peter, the Apostle, is weak, in adequate and apologetic.

Miss Wakeman has a deeply serious and severely exacting role as Lygia. It is a high tribute to Miss Wakeman's capabilities to sey that she carries this role with marked success in all its varying phases. Her conception and delineation of the character of this much persecuted maiden constitute a notable work of art, marred only by one serious fault—the long-drawn-out and insistent intonation of vowel sounds in certain passages—more particularly in those passages—wroer particularly in those passages—wroer particularly in those passages—wroer particularly in those passages—wroer particularly in those passages—wroe particularly in those Marion Barney presents a striking and realily superb impersonation as Poppea, wife of Nero. She has imbibed the very spirit of imperior and imperious houghtiness, which is precisely what the role demands. Phosa McAllister fulfills all requirements as Pomponia. "Our Mary" is simply irresistible as Eunice, the beautiful slave, in love with Petronious. Miss Van Buren has little to do in this part, but she does that little so sweetly, so gracefully and so naturally as to disarm censure and compel admiration. The other and minor roles are sustained, for the most part, acceptably.

Half a dozen times or more the housewas left in total darkness on the opening night, pending a change of scenes. with the odor of tobacco and alcohol, and the cashiers' books reveal why the Republican innksepers subscribe liberally to the expenses of a Democratic National Convention held in their city, while the Democratic innkeepers of the other convention city are quite as ciliberal to the opposite party. Sometimes through the crowd in the lobbies passes an important or a self-important man. His brow is thoughtful and his mien conveys the impression that he is overburdened with secrets. If he is gracious to one or two of the loungwar of the lobby, he leaves a wake of happiness behind him. If he is merely mysterious, he gives them something to guess about. He goes to the inner room of the "headquarters" to which he is attached. Men are constantly wandering in and out of the large headquarters rooms, whose carpets, as the carpets of the halls and staliways, are protected by lines coverings. They go there in the hope of setting news, but they get none. The ordinary delegate is a mere numeral, No one intrusts any secret to him. ARMY OF THE TENNESSEE isst. Gen. Nelson of Buell's army states that his division buried ninety-eight Union soldiers and 256 robels. There were 1784 Union soldiers killed at Shiloh, and within our lines there were certainly many more Confederate than Union dead. All authorities agree on this point, and there were more fead rebels outside our lines than within. Gen. McClernand, in his official report of April 14, 1862, says: "Within a radius of 200 yards of my headquarters some 150 dead bodies were left on the field, the proportion of rebels to Union being about three to one."

On the left of the Union line, in front of the "Hornet's Nest," where so many assaults on Huribut's and W. H. L. Wallace's divisions were made on Sunday afternoon, and were each time repulsed with heavy loss, while inflicting slight loss on the Union troops, it certainly looked as though there were five dead in gray to one in blue. Twice the number reported by Beauregard would be an underestimate of the dead left on the field at Shiloh by the Confederate hospital was loce'nd some distance from Shiloh on the Corinth road, so that many of the wounded had to go three to four miles before receiving medical treatment, which cost many lives. The road from Shiloh to Cerinth was strewn with dead bodies and fresh-made graves.

In and around Corinth were some 18,000 Confederate graves, and citizens and prisoners reported that fully 4000 of them were men who had been wounded at Shiloh.

When Sherman's division entered Holly Springs in July, 1862, they found 1100 fresh graves, thet citizens reported were those of men wounded at Shiloh, and who had been brought to the hospitals refer from Shiloh. Two years later, while camping at Holly Springs with my brigade for a few days, I made my headquarters with Dr. Bonner, a leading citizen, who had been in charge of the Confederate hospitals are that place, and who corroborated the above statement. Many wounded were assisted back to Corinth by their commades, and put on cars and sent to their homes, where they died from their injur
